EMERGENCY RESPONSE SERVICES

Today's cyber-attacks have become more sophisticated and frequent. Technologies such as cloud, mobile devices, and social media have virtually eliminated network boundaries and increased vulnerabilities. The lack of a unified incident management processes, coupled with inexperienced staff can increase the business impact of security incidents.

LifeTech's Life Rapid Wire — an Emergency Response Services solution — is designed to provide resources to assist you with computer security incidents or emergency response preparation. It prepares, manages and responds to computer security incidents while including steps for analysis, intelligence gathering, containment, eradication, recovery, and prevention.

Life RapidWire is able to:

- Reduce risks/exposure through a more proactive and preventive approach
- Provide access to key resources that can enable faster recovery and helps reduce incident impact on businesses
- Enable a broader view and deeper understanding of incidents using intelligence data and analytics
